

FIFTH AVENUE MEETS THE PEERAGE

The British essayist and newspaper columnist known as Juvenal stated that "New Yorkers are beginning to regard themselves as a sort of annexed wing of the British nobility." Well, the New Yorkers weren't far wrong—at least not at the turn of the century.

BRADLEY MARTIN
20-22 West 20 Street

EARL OF CRAVEN
Cornelia Martin,
Countess of Craven

PARAN STEVENS
244 Fifth Avenue

PAGET FAMILY
Minnie Stevens, Lady
Paget

OGDEN GOELET
608 Fifth Avenue

DUKE OF ROXBURGHE
May Goelet,
Duchess of Roxburghe

W.K. VANDERBILT
660 Fifth Avenue

DUKE OF MARLBOROUGH
Consuelo Vanderbilt,
Duchess of Marlborough

WILLIAM WATTS SHERMAN
838 Fifth Avenue

LORD CAMOYS
Mildred Sherman,
Lady Camoys

HENRY PHIPPS
1 East 87 Street

GUEST FAMILY
Amy Phipps, the Hon.
Mrs. Frederick Guest

WILLIAM C. WHITNEY
871 Fifth Avenue

PAGET FAMILY
Pauline Whitney, Lady
Queenborough

ANTHONY J. DREXEL
1015 Fifth Avenue

EARL OF WINCHILSEA
& NOTTINGHAM
Margaretta Drexel,
Countess of Winchilsea
& Nottingham

GEORGE J. GOULD
857 Fifth Avenue

LORD DECIES
Vivien Gould, Lady Decies

