

Hello Again!

It's been a landmark year for Future House Publishing. Thanks to our partnership with Familius, our books are now distributed by Workman Publishing. This represents an incredible growth opportunity for our evolving press as we continue to find and publish the next generation of science fiction, fantasy, and middle grade books.

This season, we're releasing an epic science fiction novel called Horizon Delta, a story set in a universe where massive ships called Horizon Arks have fled the Earth with the last remnants of humanity. We're also publishing our first-ever illustrated middle grade novel: Pizza Boy and the Super Squad. I can't wait for you to see the illustrations. They're hilarious, and the writing is too.

Both authors of this season's books—D.W. Vogel and Dan Allen—were also part of writing our Super Dungeon Series that wraps up this year. But Super Dungeon fans need not fear! Due to incredible reader reaction, we're launching two additional series set in the Super Dungeon universe in the coming seasons. The saga of Crystalia will continue.

We live in tumultuous times. There is so much uncertainty before us with pandemics and sheltering-in-place. Readers are hungry right now—perhaps more than ever—for an escape and for hope. It's our mission to serve these readers by publishing and promoting the most incredible science fiction, fantasy, and middle grade adventure books we can find. Expect more cinematic, page-turning stories from us, with books that embrace community, liberty, and family. As circumstances change over the next several months, we'll continue to look for safe opportunities to promote Future House books with multi-state tours to schools and bookstores. We'll especially continue to engage fans online. The stories we tell can make a difference.

Read On!

Description:

Jonah's destiny was in the stars.

Jonah was born on a dying spaceship. If everything had gone according to plan, Jonah would have lived and died aboard Horizon Delta, leaving his future descendants to colonize a new home for humanity. But the ship will never make it.

The unforgiving journey has weakened their vessel, and when a meteor takes out the last of their remaining functional systems, they are stranded centuries from their final destination. Fifteen-year-old Jonah and his little brother are among the few survivors crowded into a tiny chamber, waiting for the air to run out.

When they are picked up by a dark, silent alien spacecraft, the refugees believe they're saved. Until one by one, they start to go missing.

With tensions rising and people disappearing, Jonah takes a desperate chance to escape their prison. In order to find a safe haven for his brother and his people, Jonah must find allies against their advanced and ruthless enemies and make it back to a ship that is designed to be untraceable.

Jonah is going to save his brother and the last of his people, no matter what it takes.
