

MUNARI MOBILE

The black-and-white (Munari) mobile is usually the first mobile we present to our baby. This mobile can hold the attention of a baby as young as a few days old for a long time. We can hang the Munari in the baby's movement area from birth; they can start to enjoy it as soon as we feel they are ready.

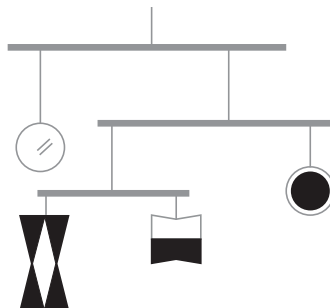

MATERIALS

- One glass ball, preferably 2.5 inches (7 cm) in diameter. A clear glass Christmas tree ornament works well, as it is light and easy to hang from a thread.
- Munari templates
- Pen or a pointed instrument
- Silk thread
- Three dowels, 5 to 7 mm in diameter (ideally black or white, but plain wood is okay), cut to the following lengths:
Dowel A - 16.5 inches (42 cm)
Dowel B - 13 inches (33 cm)
Dowel C - 8 inches (21 cm)
- Scissors

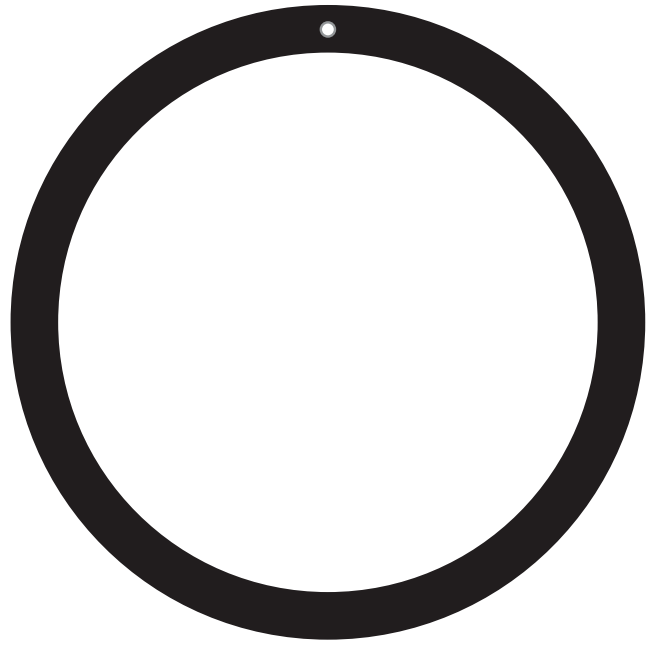

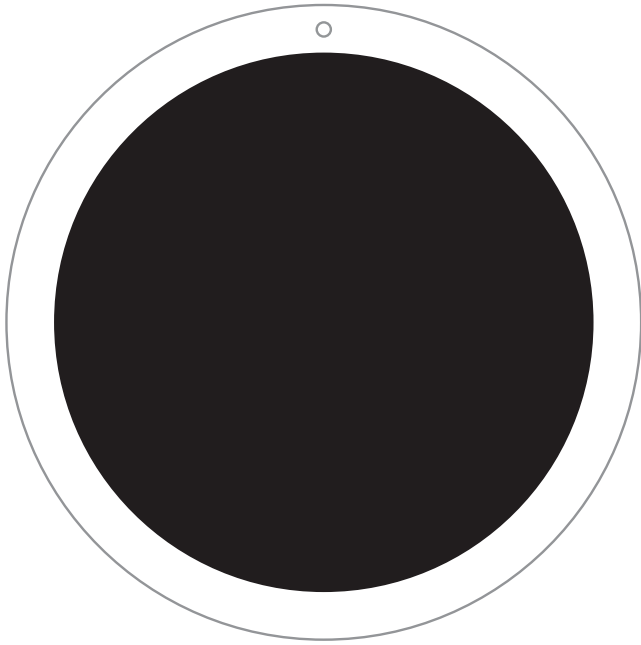

CONSTRUCTION

1. Print out the paper templates. Cut out each template.
2. Attach the two pieces in each shape so they are mirrored on each side. You can glue or tape them together. If you want avoid the paper curling, you can add a layer of card stock.
3. Pierce each hole with a needle or scissor.
4. Start from the bottom when assembling, in this order: First the rectangle / Then the square / Then the circle / Then the glass sphere.

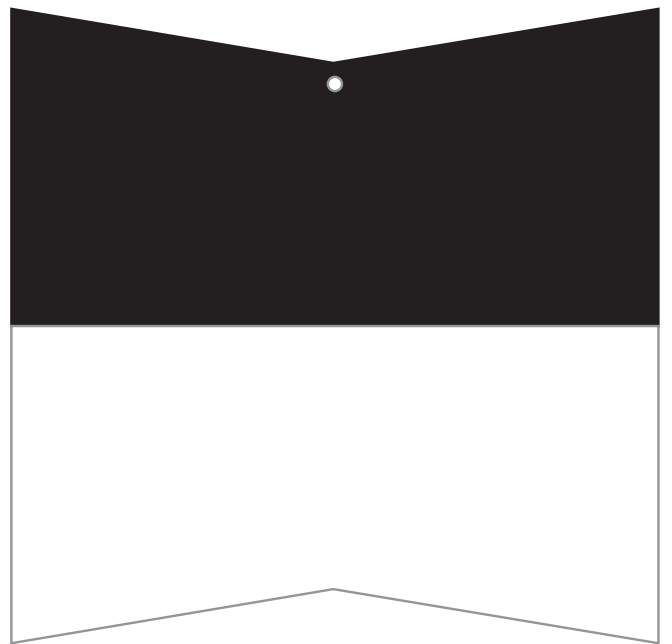

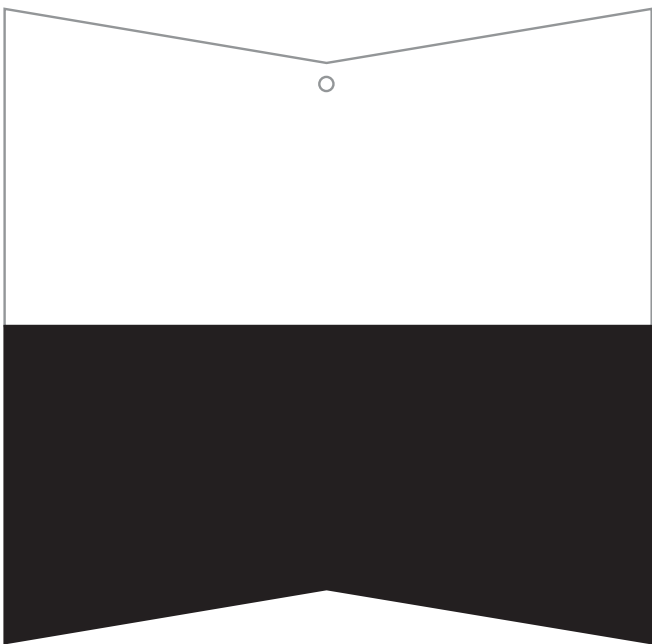

Guidelines for How to Hang the Mobile

Template: Circle

Template: Square

Template: Rectangle

