Dolphin-ately Different

Dolphins and porpoises may look similar, but there are some small differences when you look closely. See if you can find them and label the drawing with the descriptive words from the box.

DOLPHIN

long back triangular dorsal fin teardrop-shaped teeth slender body small mouth curved dorsal fin cone-shaped teeth round body

MAKE IT: KINETIC SAND

Kinetic sand can be molded into all sorts of shapes. It has a sandy texture like wet sand that makes it lots of fun to play with its simple and inexpensive to make.

What You'll Need

- 2 1/2 cups of sand (You can use fine beach sand or garden sand or buy craft sand in various colors!)
- 1/2 cup cornstarch
- 1/2 cup of cooking oil

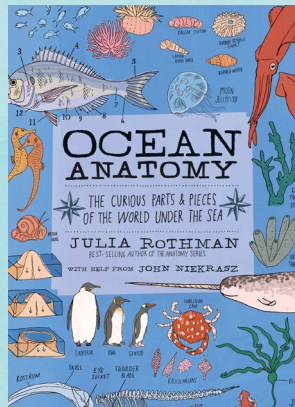

1. Put the sand and cornstarch into a large bowl and mix them well with your hands or a spoon.
2. Pour the oil into the bowl and mix and the oil is evenly distributed. You don't want any oily spots or dry parts in the mixture.
3. Use your hands to make sea creatures or corals. Make shapes with molds or cookie cutters. Store your sand in an airtight container so you can use it over and over.
